Biographical Sketch

I hold the position of Assistant Professor in Political Science at Xavier Law School, St. Xavier's University, Kolkata. Before joining Xavier Law School, I served some reputed institutions and colleges like Kolkata Police Law Institute, Basanti Devi College, Swami Niswambalananda College, Netaji Subhas Open University and Administrative Training Institute. A good number of my years were spent in teaching in some reputed schools in West Bengal. Having a great interest in research and publications, I am working towards the goal of becoming a prolific writer and researcher in the field of Political Science.

Areas of Specialisation and Research

My primary Research area is Indological Studies. Along with this I find interest to research on Gender Studies, Electoral Politics and Power Politics
