

Name: Dr. Chayanika Mitra

Designation: Assistant Professor in Economics

Qualifications: M.A., Ph.D.

Email ID: chayanika.mitra@sxuk.edu.in

Biographical Sketch

I have completed my PhD in June 2019 under the supervision of Professor Amita Majumder, Indian Statistical Institute, Kolkata. The title of my thesis is Gender Bias in Education in West Bengal. The field of research is the application of applied econometrics in the field of education expenditure and educational attainment in West Bengal. I have two publications. I did my Bachelors' and Masters' in Economics from Jadavpur University in 2011 and 2013, respectively. I cleared UGC-NET (Economics) in 2015, June.

Areas of Specialisation and Research

My area of research - Applied Econometrics, Time series and Forecasting, Cross section data Analysis, Gender Economics, Family Economics

My field of teaching- Applied Econometrics, Time series and Forecasting, Statistics, Finance and Development Economics.

Software Knowledge- STATA and Eviews.

Teaching Experience

1. Assistant Professor in Economics at St. Xavier's University, Kolkata (2019 onwards).
2. Taught STATA and Eviews for MSQE students in Indian Statistical Institute, Kolkata (August 2017- August 2018).
5. Programme Coordinator for CBSE-NET Guidance (Economics) in St Xavier's College (September 2018- April 2019).

Publications

Article published in Peer-reviewed journals

- (2016). "Gender bias in household education expenditure: the case of West Bengal", Amita Majumder & Chayanika Mitra. Indian Growth and Development Review, 9(2), 129-150.

- (2017). "Gender bias in education in West Bengal". Amita Majumder & Chayanika Mitra, Journal of Quantitative Economics, 15(1), 173-196.
- (2019). "Trends and Patterns of High Value Crops in India". Chayanika Mitra and Saswati Chakraborty. Agricultural Situation in India, 76(6), September