

IN SOLIDARITY: Students, teachers and other employees, and Jesuit priests of St Xavier's University, New Town, organised a candlelight prayer service on Tuesday evening to stand by the victims of the Easter Sunday blasts in Sri Lanka. They gathered on the campus and prayed for those who lost their lives and for the recovery of the wounded.

"Every beginning has an end and every end has a new beginning. Those who have died have entered into eternal life. May their souls rest in peace," said vice-chancellor Father Felix Raj, who led the service. Over 250 people were killed and hundreds wounded in several bomb blasts that rocked churches and hotels in Sri Lanka on Easter Sunday. Picture by Bishwarup Dutta
