Biographical Sketch

I have completed my graduation in B.A. LL.B. (Hons.) in 2019 from S.K. Acharya Institute of Law (SKAIL), affiliated to Kalyani University. With a keen interest in global legal frameworks, I pursued LLM with a specialization in International Law from Chandigarh University, completing it in 2022. Currently, I am further advancing my academic and research pursuits by pursuing a Ph.D. in Law from Amity University, Haryana.

Areas of Specialisation and Research

My research journey has been deeply rooted in the field of International Law, a specialization I pursued during my Master's program. My academic and scholarly interests have consistently centered on Human Rights, with a focus on addressing pressing global concerns through legal analysis. I have authored several articles that critically examine various dimensions of human rights, particularly those affecting marginalized and vulnerable populations. Currently, I am pursuing a Ph.D. in Law with a specific research focus on women and their rights within the corporate sector. My doctoral work explores legal frameworks, institutional policies, and socio-legal challenges faced by women in corporate environments, aiming to contribute to a more equitable and inclusive workplace.

Teaching Experience

I have teaching experience of 2 years at Kingston Law College, affiliated to West Bengal State University, Barasat.
